DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Specification

2. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Art Unit: 3682

3. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because of the use of the term "means" within the abstract. Correction is required. See MEP. § 608.01(b).
4. The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout and content for patent applications. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

The following order or arrangement is preferred in framing the specification and, except for the reference to the drawings, each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underling or bold type, as section headings. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) Title of the Invention.
- (b) Cross-Reference to Related Applications.
- (c) Statement Regarding Federally Sponsored Research or Development.
- (d) Reference to a "Sequence Listing," a table, or a computer program listing appendix submitted on compact disc (see 37 CFR 1.52(e)(5)).
- (e) Background of the Invention.
  1. Field of the Invention.

Art Unit: 3682

2. Description of the Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.

- (f) Brief Summary of the Invention.
- (g) Brief Description of the Several Views of the Drawing(s).
- (h) Detailed Description of the Invention.
- (I) Claim or Claims (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (j) Abstract of the Disclosure (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) Drawings.
- (l) Sequence Listing, if on paper (see 37 CFR 1.821-1.825).

5. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: the specification must be appropriately categorized in the aforementioned manner.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1-4, and 6-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Geyer

(US Pat. 2,620,683.

Art Unit: 3682

Geyer (US Pat. 2,620,683) discloses an actuator including a cylindrical body 23, a piston 40 adapted to slide relative to said body, means for transmitting mechanical power to said piston and also constituting means for controlling the position of said piston, and means for transmitting hydraulic power to said piston (fig. 1);

said means for transmitting mechanical power comprise a screw-and-nut system (fig. 1);

said mechanical power is supplied by a coupled motor 100;

a control system for said motor for controlling the position of said piston (limit switches as disclosed in figs. 11 and 12 would constitute such a limitation);

said means for transmitting mechanical power and said means for transmitting hydraulic power are disposed coaxially (fig. 1);

said means for transmitting hydraulic power surround said means for transmitting mechanical power (fig. 1);

includes a control and synchronization interface, as broadly recited the respective limit switches provide the mechanism to simultaneously stop upon the full-breadth of extension.

8. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Heese (US Pat. 3,823,758).

Art Unit: 3682

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Geyer (US Pat. 2,620,683) in view of Muratsubaki (US Pat 6,068,448).

Geyer (US Pat. 2,620,683) discloses the claimed invention except for the use of a hydropneumatic accumulator.

However Geyer (US Pat. 2,620,683) does not specifically disclose a hydropneumatic accumulator.

Muratsubaki (US Pat 6,068,448) discloses a hydropneumatic accumulator utilized in a hydraulic pump assembly.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have used a hydropneumatic accumulator within the hydraulic actuating system of Geyer (US Pat. 2,620,683) so as to provide suitable reservoir for the system as well to prevent the presence of gas within the system that may inhibit the actuator's performance, while at the same time reducing the weight of the apparatus and providing ideal pressure characteristics, as suggested by Muratsubaki (US Pat 6,068,448).

FACSIMILE TRANSMISSION

Submission of your response by facsimile transmission is encouraged. Group 3600's facsimile number is (703) 305-3597. Recognizing the fact that reducing cycle time in the processing and examination of patent applications will effectively increase a patent's term, it is to your benefit to submit responses by facsimile transmission whenever permissible. Such submission will place the response directly in our examining group's hands and will eliminate Post Office processing and delivery time as well as the PTO's mail room processing and delivery time. For a complete list of correspondence not permitted by facsimile transmission, see MEP.

502.01. In general, most responses and/or amendments not requiring a fee, as well as those requiring a fee but charging such fee to a deposit account, can be submitted by facsimile transmission. Responses requiring a fee which applicant is paying by check should not be submitting by facsimile transmission separately from the check.

Responses submitted by facsimile transmission should include a Certificate of Transmission (MEP. 512). The following is an example of the format the certification might take:

I hereby certify that this correspondence is being facsimile transmitted to the Patent and Trademark Office (Fax No. (703) 305-3597) on _____

(Date)

Typed or printed name of person signing this certificate:

Art Unit: 3682

(Signature)

If your response is submitted by facsimile transmission, you are hereby reminded that the original should be retained as evidence of authenticity (37 CFR 1.4 and MEP. 502.02). Please do not separately mail the original or another copy unless required by the Patent and Trademark Office. Submission of the original response or a follow-up copy of the response after your response has been transmitted by facsimile will only cause further unnecessary delays in the processing of your application; duplicate responses where fees are charged to a deposit account may result in those fees being charged twice.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
